Story...

When Twinkle sees Faith's wish, she tries and tries to grant it but she just can't. Twinkle watches with horror as far below, Faith sighs and walks back into the foster home where she lives. But to Twinkle's delight she sees that Faith still believes in her. Faith won't give up, even if the other kids tease her. She knows she has a wishing star up there somewhere and she's going to wish for a family again and again until her wish comes true. Twinkle gets toe-tapping mad and sets off on an adventure to find a Wishing Star that can teach her how to grant Faith's wish.

However, what Twinkle soon discovers is that every other Wishing Star has been star-napped by the greediest little boy in the Universe. He wants all the wishing stars for himself so he can wish for everything! The fact that the whole Universe will be destroyed if he gets his wish doesn't bother him at all. What does bother him is that he needs one more wishing star and that star is Twinkle. He tracks her from his headquarters and sends a ship out to capture her.

Meanwhile on earth Faith is starting to doubt that her wish will ever come true. This is especially true when one of the other children sabotages a visit by the adoption agency that may have a new family for Faith. She is left alone in her room without a friend, a family or a wishing star, because...

Up in space Twinkle is captured and held at the center of the greedy little boy's black hole. If she doesn't escape and learn how to grant a wish, not only will a little girl's heart be broken but the entire Universe will be destroyed.

In the end, Twinkle overcomes innumerable obstacles and Faith keeps believing in her just long enough to save the entire Universe and to discover that the family that Faith wanted was right under her nose, the whole time.
